“RNA Virus Treatment Advances”

Do you remember the last time you had the flu or a cold? Do you know a family member or friend with HIV-AIDS? Did you know that the World Health Organization has almost entirely eradicated polio? Did you realize that these are RNA viruses? If these questions interest you, then consider attending Science Cafe Norman, when undergraduate students in Dr. Susan Schroeder's course at OU will present their research on the latest methods for combatting viral illnesses such as hepatitis, influenza, ebola, and HIV.

You are invited to attend this program which is free, open to the public, and sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Coffee and snacks will be provided.
