Prescription for Healthy R_x reform

Rx: For best results, focus on health care freedom. Americans must keep the freedom to make their own health care decisions and target reforms to those who need help the most.

Suggested doses for best health:

- Buying health insurance across state lines – create more competition and more options for patients.
- Lawsuit-abuse reform – avoid extra procedures or “defensive medicine” which drives up costs.
- Tax credits for all incomes – level the playing field so that all Americans get a tax benefit for buying health insurance, not just those who get insurance through the workplace.

Warning: After receiving this prescription, avoid the following:

- Government control of health insurance – no new government programs for health insurance, whether a government-run plan or government-sanctioned “co-op”; no government bureaucrat between you and your doctor.
- Government-forced insurance – mandating that Americans buy health insurance according to the federal government guidelines.
- Government control of health care decisions or available treatments using any commissions, boards or appointees.
- Raising taxes on businesses, health care providers, or patients, directly or indirectly.
