Animal protection advocate Bruce Friedrich spearheaded PETA's campaigns that resulted in landmark reforms in the animal treatment practices of several huge fast-food corporations. His lecture will build a compelling case linking the tremendous impact our food choices have on the environment, our health, and all life on Earth. And he will share his powerful vision of the importance of veganism and animal rights in the moral and spiritual evolution of human beings.

Bruce Friedrich is an internationally acclaimed animal advocate, speaker, and author. He led some of PETA's most successful campaigns to help animals. He has appeared on television and news programs, including The Today Show and various programs on CNN, the Fox News Network, and MSNBC, in addition to features in articles in The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and USA Today. Friedrich was recently named the fifth most influential man under 38 years old in Details magazine.

Seating for this special event is limited, and advance registration is suggested.

Guests for this potluck dinner are asked to bring a dish made without animal products to serve at least 5 times the number in your party, along with a donation of $5. Or you may attend without bringing a dish (with 2 days notice) for a $12 fee.
