I still don't think to this day ...4 years later, that I've come to terms with how September 11th happened, why it happened, and who actually perpetrated the crimes of that day.

Patty Casazza, Lost husband John

Our perception of what happened on September 11th is very different from the general public's perception...

Lorie Van Auken, Lost husband Kenneth

I believe that the public is still uniformed about most of the issues that are surrounding 9/11. I think they still believe in the myth...

Mindy Kleinberg, Lost husband Allen

I think the truth sometimes can be frightening.

Monica Gabrielle, Lost husband Richard

I just don't think the public at all knows. They want to believe that our country does the right thing. And, I just don't think people want to go through [that.] That's why people don't have the information, because they don't want it.

Bob Mcilvaine, Lost son Bobby
