

NEWSLETTER

Meetup Experiment Meets

Meetup Experiment goes to the Morgan Library and Home on 8th

After nearly four months of attending Meetups weekly, sometimes daily, Jesse decided to design his own Meetup. Almost overnight The Meetup Experiment was created. The Meetup Experiment launched November 18th and is holding their first event today. The event will begin at 8:15 PM @ the entrance of The Morgan Library and Museum. Members of the group are encouraged to visit the Bob Dylan exhibit which is on display. The group will walk over to Home on 8th for Chinese food and will discuss what they saw individually at the museum. For more information check out The Meetup Experiment website: <http://culturecircle.meetup.com/14/>

CULTURE FOR THE NON-CULTURED

Sheryl runs a very successful group for people who are into cultural events without sounding pretentious. Her group welcome page states: "You live in NYC, with the world's best museums & theater & other stuff in your backyard. But you see Superman Returns & Pirates of the Caribbean, stuff you could see anywhere! Join other less-than-cultured people as we enjoy what NYC has to offer." Her next event takes place tomorrow. Her group will travel to the Folk Art Museum and then head over to Matt's Grill. To learn more about the event and future events surf on over to their website: <http://culturecircle.meetup.com/3/>

About Meetup

Meetup.com helps people find others who share their interest or cause, and form lasting, influential, local community groups that regularly meet face-to-face. We believe that the world will be a better place when everyone has access to a people-powered local Meetup Group. That's our goal.

Meetup Groups help people:

- Find others who share their interests
- Get involved locally
- Learn, teach, and share things
- Make friends and have fun
- Rise up, stand up, unite, and make a difference
- Be a part of something bigger — both locally and globally

We're proud to give more power to the people and we believe it's possible to make a profit and make a difference.

Meetup.com.

Young & New In Town (or not) (21-40) Hosts Another Party

Free Appetizer's & FREE Admission Minglethon.

Eric has been vacationing keeping a low profile. Now he is back and ready for another party. His next party is at Alibi Lounge which is a nice underground lounge tucked away on Macdougall Street. The lounge is in the heart of NYU nightlife territory. Like all parties Eric hosts this includes FREE admission.

This particular party features all star DJ John Jelly Bean Benitez. Jelly Bean is most noted as the one who orchestrated Madonna's rival to the dance scene with his remixes of her first album. He will be mixing all night at Eric's FREE party! Drink specials are all night!!!

- $5 Glasses of Wine-Normally $8. to $12.
- $3 Buds, Sol & Miller Lites (Normally $7.)
- $4 Shots(Normally $8.)
- $5 Apple Martini's (Normally $10.)
- Other specials as well!

For details on the date and time please sign up here: <http://newintown.meetup.com/426/> Please Note a picture on your profile is required to join this group.

NY TECH MEETUP

I attended this Meetup group once and would love to go back to another of their events. The welcome page gives a great description and I cannot say it any better. "On the 1st Tuesday each month at 7PM, 6 people get 5 minutes each to demo something cool to New York's tech community (geeks, investors, entrepreneurs, hackers, etc)" Please note the group is so large that every month the location is different and you must RSVP well ahead of time because they always fill up quickly. It's almost impossible to get a spot if you do not RSVP as soon as the event is posted. Cofounder of Meetup.com Scott Heiferman from what I hear consistently always has excellent Meetups. You can sign up for his meetup here: <http://newtech.meetup.com/>

