

Dialogue Between Pagan Witches and Satanists

sponsored by

New Yorkers Against Religion-Based Bigotry

Pagans and Satanists both are very misunderstood by the general public and hated by the religious right wing.

Pagans often talk about Satanism, out of a perceived need to distinguish themselves from Satanists. But most Pagans don't know much about Satanism (of which there are many different kinds) and often misrepresent it. As a result, there has been much hostility between Pagans and Satanists.

Learn about the real differences – and similarities – which will surprise many Pagans.

Thursday, August 13, at 7:30 PM

at a centrally-located diner in Manhattan. Please see our Meetup site for details and to RSVP.
