

End the Iraq War

Vote for Ron Paul

In a recent debate, both Democratic front-runners, Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama, publicly declared that they may continue the Iraq War until at least 2013!

HANOVER, New Hampshire (AP) -- The leading Democratic White House hopefuls conceded Wednesday night they cannot guarantee to pull all U.S. combat troops from Iraq by the end of the next presidential term in 2013.

The candidates have vied with increasing intensity for the support of anti-war voters.

"I think it's hard to project four years from now," said Sen. Barack Obama of Illinois in the opening moments of a campaign debate in the nation's first primary state.

"It is very difficult to know what we're going to be inheriting," added Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton of New York.

"I cannot make that commitment," said former Sen. John Edwards of North Carolina.

Only one major presidential candidate has vowed to end the Iraq War "as soon as possible."

That candidate is Congressmen Ron Paul.

Ask yourself, do you want to end the Iraq war now, or are you willing to wait until 2013?
