Are you tired of voting for politicians who say one thing but vote for something else? They say they support lower taxes, a balanced budget, reduced deficits, more employment, sound monetary policy and a sane foreign policy, but they don't! All they need to do is uphold their oath to our Constitution, but they won't! Every vote they cast benefits their lobbyist buddies, their party, and themselves. We get table scraps or nothing at all, and we're always stuck footing the bill. Now that burden is increasingly being dumped onto our children and grandchildren, and very soon it'll be impossible to repay the mountain of debt they've made for us.

If you're a Kentuckian who yearns for someone to represent us for a change,
someone who can win...
Rand Paul is THE candidate for US Senate in 2010.

Rand Paul is a constitutional conservative. He believes in our founding principles and wants to see us get back to what works. He is a staunch defender of personal liberty and he believes in the free market.

We're being bombarded lately with the message that capitalism has failed us, but the truth is, we've failed capitalism. We have too much government regulation, which allows lobbyists to corrupt the process, and of course, we pay way too much in taxes.

Rand Paul isn't a career politician and he doesn't want to be. He wants to go to DC and fix this mess with our help, then come back to Kentucky. He'll introduce bills for term limits, he'll never vote for a bill he hasn't read, and he won't vote for any unbalanced budget or any tax increase.

If you're tired of what we've been getting, it's time to vote for an outsider instead of the party's choice. Learn about Rand on his website, watch Rand videos on YouTube, or google Rand Paul. If you like what you see, please consider registering Republican before December 31st 2009 to vote for REAL CHANGE in the May 18th 2010 primary. Let's send Rand to DC!
