Defending the 2nd Amendment

Presidential Candidate Dr. Ron Paul, a 10th-term Congressman from Texas, has been the leading advocate of our right to keep and bear arms.

Gun control historically serves as a gateway to tyranny. - Ron Paul

When potential victims are likely armed, criminals think twice about committing violent crimes: a gun in the hands of a law-abiding citizen is an excellent deterrent to crime. - Ron Paul

The 2nd Amendment in the Bill of Rights does not grant, but acknowledges the individual's natural right to defend himself. Our founders understood that this right must be protected in order to assure the protection of their other natural rights. No other candidate actively promotes the rights of citizens to protect their life, family, property, and liberty like Congressman Paul.

Dr. Paul is among the last men in Washington who understand the principles of liberty that this country was founded on. While other candidates claim to support the 2nd Amendment, Congressman Paul has an impeccable record on Capitol Hill. He has written or sponsored legislation to repeal:

- the Brady law
- the requirement to lock up your safety (gun) cabinet
- the law permitting the US to be part of the UN (seeks to ban privately transferred firearms)
- the prohibition on importation of guns on a sporting basis test
- prohibitions on any pilot wishing to carry a handgun to and in his cockpit
- the so-called "assault weapons" ban (prior to its sun-setting in 2004)

Dr. Paul sponsored legislation requiring reciprocity of concealed carry permits among all states (the way driver's licenses are treated).

Paul opposes a national ID card, in part to protect gun owners. A national ID card would likely identify the bearer as a gun owner, among other things, to government officials.

2nd Amendment Report Card

John McCain 2006 GOA rating – F.

Mitt Romney boasted that his view on firearms was "not going to make me the hero of the NRA". Rudy Giuliani attempted to tap dance around his gun control record"

Fred Thompson voted "anti-gun" 14 out of 33 times.
