Ron Paul Raise Millions Again in 3rd Quarter?

Monday, September 24, 2007 - FreeMarketNews.com

Ron Paul is doing it again. After raising $2.4 million in the second quarter, the campaign is indicating that it could raise as much as $2.5-$3 million in the third - or even more.

According to a just issued campaign bulletin, "We have one week left. Our goal is to raise $500,000 online by September 30th. That boost will give us the best fundraising quarter yet, and it will show that our campaign is getting stronger by the day. $500,000 online in seven days will be a challenge. But I know we can make it.

And the release adds, "Last quarter, you helped raise more money for the Ron Paul 2008 campaign than the political pundits thought possible. I assure you that we will surpass our total from last quarter. The question is by how much."

Ron Paul's campaign has defied the pundits of the mainstream press from the beginning. In fact, FMNN had predicted back in August that third quarter funding was going well for: "Ron Paul August Funding Surge?"

FMNN reported then: "Texas congressman Ron Paul's fund-raising is a smoothly-oiled machine that continues to generate funding in support of his free-market candidacy. Sources close to the campaign believe that August was another good month. ... Time, money and volunteers are pouring into the Ron Paul campaign in a wave of energy and resources.

I believe in Ron Paul and so do many Americans!. Main stream media can shun him, laugh at him but those doing the laughing and saying Ron Paul "is crazy" are really laughing at the American People who adore this man!..What kind of men are they to laugh at Ron Paul??? What kind of president would they make if they were elected?? I am writing another check to Ron Paul's campaign because I believe in him and what he stands for!! So Rudy!!! ha ha ha

Which was funnier, Rudy's snickers at Paul at the debate or Rudy's boatripe back from Mackinac on a ship full of Paul supporters? Rudy hid in the captains bridge! Oh well, the more childish antics played the more Ron gets boosted.

I'm 52, hate politics and politicians, but for the first time in my life I've donated to a campaign -- Ron Paul's. Finally a candidate with character, intelligence and integrity. While he's still a longshot, it feels good to have that glimmer of hope! I'm not religious, but if there is a God he is smiling upon Ron Paul.

Ron Paul represents the conscience of America. I have donated and will donate to show mainstream media pundits that we are not bots, but real people, who will have a real say, in our next presidency. Ron Paul gives me hope.

It's great to see the word getting out to so many people. It really is sad that Ron Paul has to put up with so much ignorant disrespect on mainstream media. In fact its hard to find anyone on mainstream that is not purposefully rude, why is that? Why are they so afraid to discuss the issues and instead resort to interrupting and mis-quoting? I hope the American people start to really demand more and that it backfires on those, excuse me, bastards that show no care for one of the only, if not the only, candidate with integrity.

Finally a candidate that represents my view completely. I feel like my vote will count for something. Even if he doesn't win the primaries, I will write him in on the general ballot. I am rebelling against the old 'wisdom' of choosing the 'lesser of two evils'--they both take us to the same end. I don't want to be accountable for that!

Like others, this is the first time I've contributed money to a campaign. Ron Paul is the best candidate this country has had in a very long time. Every dollar helps, so please contribute something.

Dr. Ron Paul faces irrational prejudices!

Ron Paul's straw poll results are most impressive, the meetup groups are leading support bases of any candidate, and Ron Paul supporter's enthusiasm is second to none!

Americans must stand up and DEMAND the media give Ron Paul coverage. I am not talking about cheap shots and biased coverage. WE WANT EQUAL TREATMENT FOR RON PAUL. NOW!

Let's take this country back!

Write a letter, tell a friend, support Ron Paul!

Give to the Ron Paul campaign today!

I am so tired of the media picking the next president. I am so happy that the internet has educated so many Americans. I can hardly wait till the primaries when we will see who the American people want as thier next President. I just hope that with the electronic voting that they will not be tampered with. If the voting machine are true then Americans will see that Ron Paul is the peoples choice. I love my country but fear my government and this is why Ron Paul has to be elected as our next President. I want to be truely a free American and not fear getting tasered by cops when I want to exercise my freedom of speech.
