E) The Who: Meetup Members

No where in Los Angeles this Halloween can you be at a Castle and dance to Richard Blade all Night! No where can you gaze at the Hollywood Sign and Downtown LA in a wild Castle on a Hill....

No where in Los Angeles can you meet in public, new people who really want to meet other new people! I will be working the crowds and making sure no one sits alone! I may pull you out on the dance floor or introduce you to some goblin or ghost. Meetup members are an elite group of people. We are outgoing, successful, and friendly. Sometimes, we may start out shy, or a bit timid, but there are tons of new meetup members coming to this massive party so you are not alone!!!.

So if you are feeling a bit overwhelmed, here is what you do: look for the Blinky pin, and grab my wrist and say hi! I will introduce you to every devil, clown, and goofy 20's dancer I can find! Also, forgive me if I don't recognize you immediately, I may have a cocktail, and will have my mind on a few things from security to transportation. So if I blank for a second, know that I know you...

F) The Why: Day of the Dead

I have Celiac and luckily I manage it. But many children are undiagnosed. Being young and having Celiac is a tough road to go alone. So Whenever I can I try to combine Meetup with Charities. From kids with blindness and dyslexia Tiki Parties to Bowling for Runaway kids in Hollywood, Meetup is not just about having fun, its about doing something with all this social networking. So as some cultures remember the ones gone, let's party to help the ones hanging on...
