

Charitable Film Network and The Green Project

Join us for the film screening of

Mardi Gras: Made in China

(With FREE food from Elizabeth's Restaurant)

Thursday, February 17, 2011- 7pm
The Green Project Warehouse

Mardi Gras may be our favorite holiday around these parts, but have you ever stopped to think about the environmental and human impact of this tradition? The repercussions of Mardi Gras extend far further than our city. Discover the back story of Mardi Gras and learn how to recycle your beads with Margie Perez of the ARC's bead recycling program.

The Green Screen is always FREE and open to the public. Hope you can join us for the film!

The Green Project Warehouse - 2831 Marais St. New Orleans, LA 70117
www.thegreenproject.org - info@thegreenproject.org - (504)945-0240
www.charitablefilmnetwork.org - mail@charitablefilmnetwork.org - (504) 896-7333

Charitable Film Network and The Green Project

Join us for the film screening of

Mardi Gras: Made in China

(With FREE food from Elizabeth's Restaurant)

Thursday, February 17, 2011- 7pm
The Green Project Warehouse

Mardi Gras may be our favorite holiday around these parts, but have you ever stopped to think about the environmental and human impact of this tradition? The repercussions of Mardi Gras extend far further than our city. Discover the back story of Mardi Gras and learn how to recycle your beads with Margie Perez of the ARC's bead recycling program.

The Green Screen is always FREE and open to the public. Hope you can join us for the film!

The Green Project Warehouse - 2831 Marais St. New Orleans, LA 70117
www.thegreenproject.org - info@thegreenproject.org - (504)945-0240
www.charitablefilmnetwork.org - mail@charitablefilmnetwork.org - (504) 896-7333

Charitable Film Network and The Green Project

Join us for the film screening of

Mardi Gras: Made in China

(With FREE food from Elizabeth's Restaurant)

Thursday, February 17, 2011- 7pm
The Green Project Warehouse

Mardi Gras may be our favorite holiday around these parts, but have you ever stopped to think about the environmental and human impact of this tradition? The repercussions of Mardi Gras extend far further than our city. Discover the back story of Mardi Gras and learn how to recycle your beads with Margie Perez of the ARC's bead recycling program.

The Green Screen is always FREE and open to the public. Hope you can join us for the film!

The Green Project Warehouse - 2831 Marais St. New Orleans, LA 70117
www.thegreenproject.org - info@thegreenproject.org - (504)945-0240
www.charitablefilmnetwork.org - mail@charitablefilmnetwork.org - (504) 896-7333

Charitable Film Network and The Green Project

Join us for the film screening of

Mardi Gras: Made in China

(With FREE food from Elizabeth's Restaurant)

Thursday, February 17, 2011- 7pm
The Green Project Warehouse

Mardi Gras may be our favorite holiday around these parts, but have you ever stopped to think about the environmental and human impact of this tradition? The repercussions of Mardi Gras extend far further than our city. Discover the back story of Mardi Gras and learn how to recycle your beads with Margie Perez of the ARC's bead recycling program.

The Green Screen is always FREE and open to the public. Hope you can join us for the film!

The Green Project Warehouse - 2831 Marais St. New Orleans, LA 70117
www.thegreenproject.org - info@thegreenproject.org - (504)945-0240
www.charitablefilmnetwork.org - mail@charitablefilmnetwork.org - (504) 896-7333