WordPress is the world's #1 CMS and one of its greatest strengths is its huge user community. WPUGL brings together London's community of WordPress users to share knowledge, tips, ideas and inspiration, helping each other get the most out of WordPress.

We will be running regular, FREE events in central London with an informal atmosphere, encouraging everyone to share their knowledge and learn from others.

Each event will focus on a specific aspect of WordPress, chosen by you, the community. Meetups will include hands on 'peer to peer' workshops, advice from WordPress professionals and the chance to network with other WordPress users.

This meetup group is specifically for people who use WordPress in their business, jobs or personal projects and want a supportive local community to help them achieve their goals. WPUGL is not a developer meetup but we strongly encourage developers and industry professionals to volunteer at events and support the user community.
